It is with pleasure we provide you with this report on our activities and achievements for the program year 2007-08.

During this program year the College continued to fulfill a central role in the development of a skilled workforce for our region's labour market. There were many developments and achievements by Parkland College for the 2007-08 year.

Technology Enhanced Learning continues to evolve throughout the work of the College and is documented by the provincial College TEL Strategic Plan. Many programs are utilizing technology for instruction. Information Processing 30, Law 30, Psychology 30, Social Studies 30 and computer software training were successfully delivered by distance between the College campuses. We received funding from the Ministry to develop English B30 and Math B30 onto Moodle for use by all Regional Colleges.

The College continued its five year project partnership with College of the Rockies (COTR), B.C. and Kimathi University Institute of Technology in Kenya, which was funded by CIDA. We hosted the Principal from Kimathi and the President from College of the Rockies at our annual Board/Staff Workshop and toured the region with them. The College signed an agreement with College of the Rockies to initiate staff exchanges between the two colleges. Two staff from Parkland College visited College of the Rockies this year to learn and exchange ideas in marketing, contract training, technology, and international development work. We also hosted and toured a delegate of native Guarni from Iguazu, Argentina, who is involved in an international project with Niagara College.

English language training was in great demand this year with a number of immigrants settling in the region through connections to business. Language training for new Canadians (LINC) program and English as a Second Language (ESL) training more than doubled over the year.

There is a larger aboriginal population in the College region and we are committed to supporting the aboriginal client and learner through education and training. Initiatives that the College undertook this year were: providing Elder services in Yorkton, Kamsack, and Fort Qu'Appelle; delivering a number of programs in partnership with First Nations Bands and Saskatchewan Indian Institute of Technology (SIIT) including Office Management, Early Childhood Education, and Level 1 Plumbing; continuing to focus on our contract with the Aboriginal Employment Development Program; graduating 15 students from an Adult Basic Education 10 program in Kamsack; delivering a wide array of professional and counselling workshops and safety and computer training to First Nations Bands. The aboriginal enrollments in the technical programs delivered by the College continued to increase in numbers with the first Aboriginal student graduating from the Business Year II Diploma program.

The College has delivered many successful programs this year. The Industrial Mechanical Apprenticeship program, Year I and Year III, Masters of Adult Education program, SIIT Office Management certificate, Canadian Agriculture Skills Services program. Workplace Essential Skills contracts and a continuous intake model for a Bridging program were innovative in the program and training area. Developing a new College brand, which included a logo, tag line, colours, signage, and name-change was a major yet exciting initiative.

Development work by the College throughout the year resulted in a successful contract with fire etc. of Lakeland College to deliver the first Firefighter Training Program in Saskatchewan in Melville in August, 2008. Partnerships with the City of Melville, City of Yorkton and the Saskatchewan Fire Commissioner's Office contributed to this success.

Parkland College has worked with many partners this year. The annual Needs Assessment document again included a number of regional partners. The document tracked accomplishments of joint objectives and set future goals for the region. A survey of the needs of the financial sector including accounting firms, banks, and insurance brokers were completed and included in the needs assessment. An "Employer Appreciation" program has increased the awareness of the number of business/college partnerships that have supported the success of students.

The management and staff worked closely with community groups, committees, and organizations to assist in community and economic development. Some of these are the Chambers of Commerce, Regional Economic Development Authority, Yorkton Business Improvement Committee and many other national, provincial and regional committees. As a result of these partnerships, federal and provincial funding, and increased awareness of the College mandate in the region, the College saw a 11.6 FTE increase in their staffing complement.

We wish to thank the many individuals, organizations and businesses we have worked with over the 2007-08 year. As a result of their support, student scholarship donations totaled $65,400, an increase of $26,000 from last year. We look forward to the Parkland region's continued support as we jointly address the training, education and labour market needs of the region.

Expanded ABE delivery to include on-reserve programs at Key, Keeseekoose and Cote First Nations.

SIAS and Institute Programs deliver a broad range of training programs that provide individuals with the skills required to become employed or to upgrade their technical skills. The needs of local employers and industry are a major consideration in the range of training programs offered. Both full and part-time programs are available.

The target population is adults who require skills training in order to meet their employment goals. Within the targets Parkland recognizes that it is necessary to include specific equity groups that have been under-represented in the labour force: Aboriginal persons, youth, women in non-traditional roles, persons with disabilities, and visible minorities.

Major Initiatives

All targets were met for 2007-08 SIAS and Institute programming.

The Practical Nursing (PN) Program continues to be in high demand when with the seven additional seats, so these additional seats will continue for the new school year. The SIAS PN Program has been approved to be recognized as a diploma program for the coming year.

For a third year, Office Management Certificate program from Saskatchewan Indian Institute of Technology (SIIT) was offered to Fort Qu'Appelle students. This program will be expanded for the coming school year to include the full Management Studies I Certificate Level.

A second pre-trades plumbing program was offered at Keeseekoose First Nations through the Aboriginal Apprenticeship Commission. This program involved SIIT, SIAS, Aboriginal Apprenticeship, and Parkland College with eleven students participating from Key, Keeseekoose and Cote First Nations. Yorkton Tribal Council was involved with living allowance support.

Two pre-trades welding programs were offered in Melville and Yorkton with a high number of graduates finding work in this field. A pre-trades carpentry program was offered in Yorkton with all of the students continuing with employment in that trade.

Three heavy equipment operator programs were offered in Yorkton. The City of Yorkton hosted the program by providing a work site, several pieces of equipment and all fuel requirements. Redhead Equipment (Regina) also participated as a sponsor.

The Apprenticeship Industrial Mechanics pilot held in Esterhazy continues to be offered with third year being offered. Plans to continue to year four and intake of level one have been reaffirmed.

The Computer Networking Technician Program attracted seven of the nine students from outside the region. We were pleased to share the student applicants pool with support from SIAS Wascana Campus.

We continue to provide training to on-reserve daycare staff from File Hills Qu'Appelle Tribal Council as they work towards their Early Childhood Education Certificates and Diplomas. This relationship continues to grow. Increased contact with Aboriginal agencies has improved exposure with this target audience.

Our Post-secondary Recruiter has continued to strengthen connections with graduates in high schools in the region through increased school visitations. A career fair was hosted in partnership with Canadian Armed Forces and other agencies.

Parkland College continues to encourage work placements as a transition to employment and includes enhancements to training programs to help fill the gaps in brokered curriculum, which has resulted in favourable comments from both students and employers.

Part-time programming continues to increase each year allowing students to maintain regular employment as well as receive their training in the region. Part-time programs were offered in the Continuing Care Assistant, Early Childhood Education, Business Administration, Business Accountancy and Office Education areas.

More students who have self-identified special needs are requiring extra accommodations and support from the learning specialist and learning centre. This is an area that will require additional support in the future.

Skills Training Industry Programs are designed to be responsive to the educational and training needs of adults, community agencies, and employers within our region by delivering courses targeted to:

- Industry credit and non-credit training;
- Industry recognized computer courses;
- Non-credit transition to trades programming;
- Community non-credit;
- Personal/leisure non-credit.

JobStart/Future Skills Workbased Training for the unemployed provides financial assistance to employers to deliver recognized on-the-job training for unemployed Saskatchewan residents that leads to permanent employment. The funding available is based on the employer's new position and training plan as developed by the employer.

Apprenticeship - Assistance with transition into Apprenticeship continues to be provided through the individualized Trade Employment Connections (TEC) program, and work experience components of trade and industrial programs.

In addition, the Rural Apprenticeship level training for Industrial Mechanics trade continues to be refined and successfully delivered in 2008. A second refined round with a new cohort was started in the spring of 2008.

Major Initiatives

The team of training consultants continued to expand the development and delivery of training opportunities for businesses and organizations within the region. Their presence continues to assist in increasing enrollment in Career and Student Support Services and SIAS and Institute Programs areas.

Occupational Health and Safety (O.H. & S.) training has played a major role in the delivery of Industry Programs. Expansion into Certificate of Recognition (COR) training, Early Safety Training for youth, and delivery outside of the region are being explored to keep this area strong.

There continues to be a demand from businesses and organizations for customized and on-site training in the area of computer-based training using the mobile laptop lab.

The First Nations individuals, bands, and tribal councils continue to require a full array of training which has contributed to a significant portion of the overall training delivered by the Industry Programs team.

The training consultants' efforts to increase visibility throughout the region has led to a significant increase in the number of employer inquiries for the JobStart/Future Skills program.

The trend during the past year was towards more projects involving small groups of employees. The growth in the Yorkton area and the arrival of the canola crushing plants to our region will lead to larger scale projects surfacing in the fall of 2008.

Parkland College is part of a Workplace Essential Skills Task Team that has been put into place to determine training needs for the JobStart/Future Skills coordinators in the province. Employers are finding that by using Workplace Essential Skills training up-front in the workplace they are seeing better results from the formal training.

Drive it.
ON THE EDGE OF THE ROAD

University Programs greatest strengths include:

The program arrangement with the University of Saskatchewan, University of Regina, and the First Nations University of Canada;

The unique geographic location of the College at such a distance from the university campuses;

A strong advisory component;

Access to tutor workshops and learning assessments and accommodations. Specific student tutor support is available in the areas of Writing, Biology, Chemistry and Mathematics through the Learning Centre.

Major Initiatives

The post-secondary recruiter included scholarships in her responsibilities resulting in $37,400 in internal scholarships and $28,000 in entrance scholarships.

Building access to classes and counselling via distance (part of TEL initiative).

Having special student celebrations for the year such as Halloween, Valentine's Day, and Christmas to create a more personable environment.

Encouraged more students to take classes online.

Planned the Social Work course offering for the next two years so that students will be able to progress through the program and start the program in a logical sequence.

Continue with the Master of Adult Education program.

Began using Moodle course management system for three courses: Composition, Biology, and English.

Advocated for a Master of Social Work program from University of Regina and a Master of Education Administration from the University of Saskatchewan.

Modified the university program to include Ukrainian language 100 from the University of Regina. Students will take this class for special interest, if they require six credits of a language, or they require electives. Employers may take this class for professional development.

The post-secondary recruiter organized a career fair, "Connections '08," by partnering with Canadian Armed Forces for venue, advertising, and promotion. This open house was a tremendous success with approximately 400 people attending.

Worked with several international students from France, Kenya, Nigeria and the United States. Only the students from the United States received student-visas.

Met with the Dean of Nursing from the University of Saskatchewan about the possibility to run a degree nursing program off-campus.

Technology Enhanced Learning

Parkland College uses technology to expand the accessibility of programs and services. The College has maintained current computer systems and sees a need to expand the use of technology into more and more programs delivered. There is a resource issue of maintaining and upgrading the hardware and software as well as expanding the technology. Support to the learners is an immediate concern as well as expectations and demands by the learners are growing due to the expanding array of on-line courses. Currently, colleges do not receive sufficient funds to meet the needs of these distance learners.

Parkland College has supported TEL initiatives since 1999. These initiatives include staff training, advising and support to clients, and the public awareness of TEL through marketing. The College is also providing access to TEL equipment and facilities. TEL funding has been included in the operating grant and is included as a reporting item in the 2007-08 Business Plan document.

Human Resources

There is a full-Time Information Services Technician. Duties include providing support, upgrades, recommending equipment purchases, troubleshooting, repairs and maintenance.

The half-time (.5) time Manager may be tasked to assist with the above duties. Duties include providing direction and vision of technology for the College, leading the technology team, providing a five year technology capital expenditure plan, coordinating the University programs, as well as increasing demand for university training in the Yorkton and Parkland College area. Duties also include setting up and coordinating (in conjunction with Teams and Team Managers) Technology Enhanced Learning opportunities.

A full-time temporary Information Services Technician (University CO-OP student for 14 weeks) was tasked to do repairs as well as installations, cabling, and desktop support.

A part-time e-Learning Coordinator who works with Parkland instructors to design classes for TEL delivery, develop other classes for TEL delivery, and market TEL offerings to the public.

There are seven SCN attendants at Parkland College locations across the region. The locations include Canora, Esterhazy, Fort Qu'Appelle, Kelvington, Melville, Preeceville, and Yorkton.

Key Issues

- Recruit a full-time E-learning coordinator;
- Maintain Navision, 3 Data, and the e-mail servers;
- Maintain Moodle/CASS server;
- Regional Colleges need to have a province-wide TEL committee to be a sub-committee of the SAOs.

Major Initiatives

Created a new Moodle server and currently have over 30 courses running on This server has become one of our critical application servers.

Installed new Kyocera copiers in each campus location. 485 scholarship books were printed using these copiers at a cost of about $200, which compares to a cost of professional printing valued at about $1,800 with no noticeable decrease in quality.

Acquired Adobe Connect meeting/video-conferencing service from the U of This product uses Adobe servers to provide up to 50 participants in a meeting classroom.

A greater focus on computerized testing. Began the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) testing in the Fall of 2007, and discovered that Parkland was one of only three sites in Saskatchewan to write this test. Parkland also began offering Dantes Subject Standardized Tests in the Winter of 2008. Originally developed for the United States military, these tests are recognized by 18 colleges and universities world-wide. Parkland College is the fourth location in Canada. Although the testing software is problematic, the impact of providing this niche service to students is great. Students have come from Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary and Nunavut to write their exams at Parkland.

Parkland changed e-mail services from Microsoft Exchange Server to the Google Mail Service (Gmail education) to improve security and provide additional flexibility and storage for users. Several workshops were held by the information services technician in addition to being responsible for migrating existing e-mail to the new service.

Yorkton and Melville are now connected to Community Net. This objective has been five years in the making and has finally been met. The next objective will be to connect all sites using Community Net and consolidating servers.

Parkland acquired $66,000 in government funding to develop two Basic Education classes: English B 30 and Biology 30.

Created an online application system for use by Parkland College programs. The system accommodates Adult Basic Education, SIASST, credit and non-credit programs for both Canadian and international students.

Notes for Tables 1 to 1E Inclusive

When full-time SIAS program sessions are delivered over two program years, participation in each year is determined by the courses delivered in each of the two years (FLE's are correct). However, for these programs the enrolments in the second year (2007-08) are displayed under the PT enrolment column and they should be under FT enrolment column.

Although there are more Academic GED enrolments in 2007-08, there are fewer hours per person resulting in lower FLE's.

Completed = the total number of students who completed course requirements or remained to the end of the program.

Graduated = the number of students who successfully completed all course requirements resulting in achievement of certification by a recognized credit granting institution or recognized by industry.

Notes for Tables 3 & 4:

We do not 'Graduate' University and part-time institute credit programs, all are under completed columns for both academic years.

We do not do follow-up for University, part-time institute credit, skills training non-credit and short study industry credit programs.

If more than one type of follow-up is reported for an individual in a program group, enrolment is counted once and they are counted once under each type of follow-up.

Notes:

1. Program year is based on contract start date between July 1st and June 30th of a given year.
2. Results included both Workbased Training for the Unemployed (WTU) and Workbased Training for the Employed (WTE) contracts.
3. Ministry funding includes dollars paid to employer and then reimbursed by Ministry of Advanced Education, Employment and Labour, excluding any administration fees.
4. All counts of trainees are based upon unique individuals.

College growth in human resources is evident by the continued increase in staff numbers and in Full Time Equivalent staff calculations as the 2007-08 year progressed. For the final trimester, Parkland College was +5.34 FTE above the 2007-08 projection, showing a total of 80.79 FTE and 192 staff members on payroll.

As the staffing numbers indicate, the College experienced another increase in both numbers of staff and FTE during the final trimester due to additional spring programming, as well as increased student support requirements as the academic year ended. A few staff members returned from leave and due to a reorganization of the Skills Training department, a few vacancies were filled. Recruitment and selection was a major focus throughout the 2007-08 year.

Despite the growth and change of personnel throughout the year, the College continued to focus on enhancing employee communications through the commitment to the importance of Union/Management communications and relations by continuing with bi-annual Joint Union Management Partnership (JUMP) meetings. In an effort to clarify procedures, Parkland College also updated and revised Section F: Personnel and Employee Relations policies. The commitment to Representative Workforce was evident through the increased number of Aboriginal employees employed with the college (5%). The College continued to recognize and reward staff for long service by hosting staff retirement ceremonies and Staff Board workshops throughout the year.

Statement of Management Responsibility

The financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and are in compliance with the provisions of legislation and related authorities. When alternative accounting methods exist, management has chosen those it deems most appropriate in the circumstances. Financial statements are not precise because they include certain amounts based on estimates and judgements.

In fulfilling its responsibilities and recognizing the limits inherent in all systems, the management has developed and maintains a system of internal control designed to provide reasonable assurance that College assets are safeguarded from loss and that the accounting records are a reliable basis for the preparation of financial statements.

The Board of Directors of the College is responsible for the review and approval of the financial statements, and ensures management fulfils its financial reporting responsibilities. The Board meets with management and, as required, with the external auditors to discuss the results of audit examinations and financial reporting matters. The external auditors have full access to the Board with and without the presence of management.

The financial statements have been audited by Skilnick Besler Miller Moar & Co., Chartered Accountants. The Auditors' Report outlines the scope of their examination and provides their opinion on the fairness of the presentation of the information in the financial statements.

PARKLAND REGIONAL COLLEGE

AUDITORS' REPORT

2008.

The Members of the Board
Parkland Regional College
MELVILLE, Saskatchewan

We have examined the statement of financial position of the Parkland Regional College as at June 30, 2008 and the statement of operations, statement of changes in net assets and statement of cash flows for the year then ended. The College is responsible for preparing these financial statements for Treasury Board's approval. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. These standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the College as at June 30, 2008 and the results of its operations and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

PARKLAND REGIONAL COLLEGE
Notes to Financial Statements
for the year ended June 30, 2008

1 PURPOSE AND AUTHORITY

The Parkland Regional College offers educational services and programs under the authority of Section 14 of The Regional Colleges Act.

The Board of the Parkland Regional College is responsible for administering and managing the educational affairs of the College in accordance with the intent of The Regional Colleges Act and its regulations.

The College's objectives are to promote the social, economic and cultural development of the Parkland region of Saskatchewan by facilitating learning options and participating in community groups.

The College is exempt from the payment of income tax.

2 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and include the following significant policies:

a) Fund Accounting

The accounts of the College are maintained in accordance with the principles of fund accounting. For accounting and reporting purposes, resources are classified into funds in accordance with specified activities or objectives.

(i) Operating Fund

The operating fund accounts for the College's program delivery service and administrative activities.

(ii) Capital Fund

The capital fund reflects the net book value of all capital assets of the College after taking into consideration any associated long term debt. The capital fund also includes contributions, interest and donations designated for capital purposes by the contributor. Also included in the capital fund are the appropriations for future capital expenditures.

b) Revenue Recognition

The College follows the restricted fund method of accounting for grants. Restricted contributions to general operations are recognized as revenue of the operating fund in the year in that the related expenses are incurred. Contributions restricted for capital assets are recognized as revenue of the capital fund in the year they are received or receivable.

Unrestricted operating grants are recognized as revenue of the operating fund when received or receivable. Tuition and fee revenue is recognized as the course instruction is delivered. Revenue from contractual services is recognized as the service is delivered.

c) Capital Assets

Purchased capital assets are recorded at cost. Contributed capital assets are recorded at fair value at the date of contribution. Capital assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives, and are reported as an expense in the capital fund as follows:

Leasehold improvements	5% to 20%
Buildings	5%
Office furnishings/equipment	10% to 20%
Computer hardware	33%

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES Continued

d) Use of Estimates

These statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. These principles require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Differences are reflected in current operations when identified.

e) Financial Instruments

Effective July 1, 2007, the College adopted the recommendations of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) Handbook Section 3855 - Financial Instruments - Recognition and Measurement. Under these new standards, all financial assets and financial liabilities must be identified and classified. This classification determines how each financial instrument is measured.

The College's financial instruments and their classification are as follows:

Financial instrument	Classification
Cash	Held for trading
Accounts receivable	Loans and receivables
Short-term investments	Held for trading
Accrued salaries and benefits	Other liabilities
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	Other liabilities
Long-term investments	Held to maturity

Held for trading financial assets and liabilities are measured at fair value. Changes in the fair value are recognized in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets. For long-term investments, fair value is determined as cost plus accrued income, which approximates fair value. Loans and receivables and other financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost. Due to their short-term nature, the amortized cost of these instruments approximates their fair value.

This change in accounting policy did not have a significant impact on the College's financial statements at the time of adoption.

f) Recent accounting pronouncements

Effective July 1, 2008, the College will be required to adopt CICA Handbook sections 3862 - Financial Instruments - Disclosures and 3863 - Financial Instruments - Presentation. Section 3862 provides standards for disclosure of the risks arising from financial instruments to which the College is exposed and how the risks are managed by the College. Section 3863 provides standards for the presentation of financial instruments and non-financial instrument derivatives. The College is currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of these new sections on its financial statements.
